

Schemes of delegation of the Wales Audit Office and the Auditor General for Wales

Date issued: June 2022

Document reference:

The Wales Audit Office and the Auditor General for Wales have prepared these schemes of delegation under section 18 and paragraph 32 of Schedule 1 to the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2013.

The Wales Audit Office and the Auditor General for Wales adopted their respective schemes on 10 June 2021.

Audit Wales is the umbrella identity of the Auditor General for Wales and the Wales Audit Office, which are each separate legal entities with their own legal functions. The Auditor General has functions of auditing and reporting on Welsh public bodies. The Wales Audit Office has functions of providing resources, such as staff, for the exercise of the Auditor General's functions, and of monitoring and advising the Auditor General. Where relevant, the text of this document identifies what are Auditor General functions and what are Wales Audit Office functions. Audit Wales is not a legal entity and itself does not have any functions.

Schemes of delegation

Scheme of delegation of functions of the Wales Audit Office

Introduction

- 1 This scheme sets out the delegations of functions of the Wales Audit Office (the Board). For context, it also sets out functions that are reserved for exercise by the Board. For a comprehensive view of delegations in the organisation, this scheme should be read alongside the scheme of delegation of the Auditor General for Wales.
- 2 The Board may revise or revoke its scheme of delegation in accordance with its procedural rules (which are set out in its terms of reference). Furthermore, regardless of the provisions of this scheme of delegation, the Board may at any time exercise any of its functions itself, either on its own initiative or on the recommendation of an officer to whom the matter is delegated.
- 3 Despite any delegation arrangements, the Board remains responsible for the exercise of its functions.
- 4 Apart from functions that are reserved by statute, functions of the Board that have not been delegated or reserved under the Board's scheme of delegation may be exercised by the Auditor General as the Chief Executive of the Wales Audit Office. The Auditor General may delegate such functions further, subject to the general conditions set out in paragraph 9 below.
- 5 The next sections of this document provide:
  - (a) a summary of the functions of the Board to provide context for the detailed schedule (this is without prejudice to the content of the schedule);
  - (b) the conditions of delegation that apply to this scheme;
  - (c) a detailed schedule of delegations.

The Board's general and reserved functions

- 6 In broad terms, the Board is responsible for:
  - a) monitoring the exercise of the Auditor General's functions;
  - b) providing the Auditor General with advice<sup>1</sup>;
  - c) employing staff and providing resources for the exercise of the Auditor General's functions.

<sup>1</sup> The Auditor General has complete discretion as to the manner in which the functions of that office are exercised, subject to aiming to carry those functions efficiently and cost-effectively, having regard to the standards and principles of an expert provider of accounting and audit services, and having regard to advice from the Board.

- 7 There are specific functions, prescribed by the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2013 which, regardless of any scheme, cannot be delegated:
- (a) estimating the income and expenses of the Wales Audit Office for each financial year;
  - (b) preparing an annual plan for each financial year with the Auditor General<sup>2</sup>;
  - (c) making rules for the purpose of regulating the Wales Audit Office's procedure;
  - (d) recommending to the Senedd a person to audit the accounts of the Wales Audit Office;
  - (e) jointly preparing a report or an interim report each financial year on the exercise of the functions of the Auditor General and the Wales Audit Office;
  - (f) designating, with the agreement of the Senedd, another person to temporarily exercise the functions of the Auditor General.
8. There are other functions which are not prescribed but which the Board has chosen to reserve to itself and which are set out in the detailed schedule.

Conditions of delegation

- 9 The delegations made in this scheme are subject to the following conditions:
- (a) all delegated powers must be exercised in accordance with the Wales Audit Office's policies and procedures;
  - (b) before exercising any delegated function, the person exercising the function must undertake appropriate consultations, for example, with the Head of Finance in respect of any significant resource implications;
  - (c) delegated powers must not be exercised in a manner that is likely to be a cause for public concern;
  - (d) except where the schedule indicates that a function may not be delegated or not delegated further, further delegation is permitted provided that such delegation is recorded in writing.
- 10 Those exercising delegations must have regard to the role and responsibilities of the Executive Leadership Team as described in its terms of reference. The person exercising the delegated function will determine the nature, scope and timing of any engagement with the Executive Leadership Team.

<sup>2</sup> This is a function of the Chair rather than the Board. Similarly, the function of appointing employee members of the Board is a function of the non-executive members and cannot be delegated.

Scheme of delegation of functions of the Auditor General for Wales

Introduction

- 1 This scheme sets out the delegations of functions of the Auditor General for Wales (Auditor General) and is made under section 18 of the Public Audit (Wales) Act 2013. The functions of the Auditor General may only be delegated in accordance with a scheme prepared by the Auditor General.
- 2 For context, the scheme also sets out functions that are reserved for exercise by the Auditor General personally. For a comprehensive view of delegations in the organisation, this scheme should be read alongside the scheme of delegation of the Wales Audit Office (the Board), particularly as that scheme provides for:
  - the delegation of certain Board functions to the Auditor General as Chief Executive of the organisation; and
  - audit and accounting functions that are relevant to the Auditor General's responsibilities as the Wales Audit Office's Accounting Officer.
- 3 The Auditor General may revise or revoke his or her scheme of delegation at any time, after consulting the Board. Furthermore, regardless of the provisions of this scheme, the Auditor General may at any time exercise any of his or her functions personally.
- 4 Despite any delegation arrangements, the Auditor General remains personally responsible for the exercise of his or her functions.
- 5 In situations where the Auditor General is unwilling or unable to discharge the functions of his or her office, the Board may, with the agreement of the Senedd, designate a person to exercise those functions temporarily in accordance with Part 3 of Schedule 2 to the 2013 Act. In such circumstances, this scheme will apply as if made by the designated person and may be revised or revoked by that person, subject to the statutory requirement for consultation with the Board.
- 6 The next sections of this document provide:
  - (a) a summary of the functions of the Auditor General so as to provide context for the detailed schedule of delegation (and without prejudice to the content of the schedule);
  - (b) the conditions that apply to this scheme;
  - (c) a summary of the functions reserved to the Auditor General;
  - (d) a detailed schedule of delegations.

The Auditor General's functions: general delegations and reservations

- 7 The Auditor General has responsibilities and functions in relation to three roles:
- a) his auditor role, which includes—
    - i. the statutory audit of accounts;
    - ii. audits done by agreement;
    - iii. value for money examinations and studies (for brevity, the term “study” in this document refers to both examinations and studies);
    - iv. the certification of grants claims and returns;
    - v. improvement assessments, improvement planning audits and special inspections done under the Local Government (Wales) Measure 2009;
    - vi. preparing a scheme of delegation for the exercise of their functions;
    - vii. preparing a code of audit practice for the exercise of their audit functions.
  - b) his role as Accounting Officer of the Wales Audit Office, which includes—
    - i. keeping proper accounts and records of the Wales Audit Office in relation to each financial year;
    - ii. preparing a statement of those accounts;
    - iii. complying with additional responsibilities in relation to the accounts and finances of the Wales Audit Office which are from time to time specified by the Senedd.
  - c) his role as Chief Executive of the Wales Audit Office. Statute does not explicitly set out the Chief Executive's functions, but the Board delegates some of its functions to enable the Auditor General to fulfil the Chief Executive role. These are covered in the Wales Audit Office's scheme of delegation.
- 8 The Accounting Officer Memorandum provided by the Senedd requires the Auditor General to make arrangements for the delegation of his Accounting Officer functions in the case of his temporary unavailability. That delegation is separate from, and does not prejudice, any temporary designation of Accounting Officer by agreement of the Wales Audit Office and the Responsible Committee of the Senedd under paragraph 5 of Schedule 2 to the 2013 Act<sup>7</sup>.

<sup>7</sup> The arrangements to be made by the Auditor General to comply with the Memorandum are to cover ordinary temporary unavailability, such that due to illness or annual leave. Arrangements under paragraph 5 of Schedule 2 to the 2013 Act may only be made where the office of Auditor General becomes vacant, the incumbent is unwilling to discharge the functions of the office, or if the Wales Audit Office and the Senedd consider that the incumbent is either unable to discharge the functions of the office or consider that there are grounds for removal because of misbehaviour.

- 9 To ensure compliance with the Financial Reporting Council's Ethical Standard<sup>8</sup>, it is necessary for the Auditor General to take no personal part in the audit, or management of the audit of, a body in which he had held a senior management position where the relevant engagement lead determines that matters arise that could be construed or perceived as leading to a conflict of interest on the part of the Auditor General as a natural person. Accordingly, the Auditor General's Scheme of Delegation takes account of this in respect of the Senedd Commission by delegating such functions, should those circumstances arise, to the Executive Director Audit Services. Similarly, for the avoidance of perceptions of conflict of interest, the Scheme makes similar arrangements in respect of the Welsh Consolidated Fund (WCF).
- 10 Except in relation to the Senedd Commission and the WCF, and except in cases of temporary unavailability of the Auditor General, the following functions are reserved for exercise by the Auditor General:
- a) assignment of engagement directors;
  - b) authorising the commencement of studies, special inspections and data matching exercises;
  - c) decisions to lay reports and other Auditor General documents before the Senedd (this excludes decisions on the timing of the laying of documents that are subject to a duty to lay).
- 11 Similarly, except in the case of temporary unavailability of the Auditor General, the following functions are also reserved for exercise by the Auditor General:
- a) where there is no relevant provision to lay (as, for example, is the case with certain types of local government studies), approving the publication of study reports (and 2009 Measure reports and data matching reports);
  - b) authorising the issue of a code of audit practice, code of data matching practice and other corporate documents that the Auditor General is required by statute to prepare;
  - c) signing the Wales Audit Office statement of accounts and governance statement;
  - d) appearance as Accounting Officer before the Responsible Committee of the Senedd;
